

GROVER GOES BACK TO THE CAPITAL.FROM BUZZARD'S BAY ON A LIGHT HOUSE TENDER.

His Intentions Unknown—Nobody at the Capital Seems To Know Whether He Will Sign the Tariff Bill or Not—Developments Looked For To-Day or To-Morrow.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The president passed City Island on a light house tender this morning. It is thought he will go to Washington from Jersey City this afternoon.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., Aug. 22.—The President left for Washington yesterday at 3:30, the Rogers at that hour steaming away for Jersey City. The President will, if his intentions be carried out, depart for Washington on the 8 o'clock express this morning.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Private Secretary Thurber yesterday claimed to know absolutely nothing as to the intentions of the President regarding the tariff bill. Representative McMillin of the ways and means committee was equally at a loss regarding the President's intention. He stated that up to a day or so ago he had been of the opinion the President would sign the bill, but the fact that he had delayed thus far in affixing his signature to the measure made it look possible he would permit the bill to become a law without taking any further notice of the action by congress on this subject. He had learned from Secretary Carlisle the work of distributing copies of the tariff bill to collectors and other officials of the government had been done without any consultation whatever between the President and the secretary of the treasury. Secretary Carlisle had not been taken into the President's confidence, according to his own story, regarding the intentions of the chief magistrate on the tariff bill, but he had conducted the business of his office on the assumption that the bill would become a law with or without the President's signature.

Speaker Crisp and his adherents in the house worked on the tariff bill from Gray Gables that the President would not be ready for business before Thursday and secured an adjournment of the house until that day. Inasmuch as the senate held no session yesterday, matters were pretty quiet at the capital and the indications are not favorable for a change before Thursday, when the President may send in the tariff bill and an accompanying message. This seems to be the consensus of opinion, but there will not be a quorum of either house to receive the communication if the exodus of congressmen for their district continues.

KEEP OUT THE REDS.

Strong Report Presented Against Anarchists from Europe.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—A strong report favoring the rigid exclusion and deportation of alien anarchists has been made by the committee on judiciary. The report states there is full constitutional power for the enactment of the proposed law and that there is urgent necessity for the immediate passage of such a measure.

The objection made to Senator Hill's bill are that the provisions made in it for the deportation of anarchists are too drastic. It is claimed any person adjudged an anarchist could be deported under its provisions, even if he had been in this country for many years. Senator Hill does not think this claim is sufficient to cause any trouble, as it is not likely that innocent persons will be made to suffer, and that it will be enforced only against those who are very objectionable, and whom all society would desire to see removed from this country to such countries as they emigrated from.

Objects to the Anarchist Bill.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—There was not a quorum present when the house began its session yesterday. The senate bill for the exclusion and deportation of alien anarchists was called up. Mr. Warner (Dem., N. Y.) objected to the consideration of the bill. On motion of Mr. Haugan (Rep., Minn.) a bill was passed to grant to the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad company a right of way through the Chippewa and White Earth Indian reservations. The house adjourned until Thursday.

THE FIRE LOSS AT CINCINNATI

Wagner Sleepers and Thirty Coaches Burned in Big Four Depot.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Aug. 22.—While three men were repairing the roof of the Big Four freight depot at Third and Baymiller streets yesterday the pitch boiled over, exploding a gasoline stove. In five minutes the entire frame structure, which contained several barrels of oil and was 800 feet long and forty-five feet wide, was ablaze, a strong north wind driving the flames. The yards adjoining were filled with stock. Four trains pulled out, but the Wagner sleepers, thirty coaches, six baggage cars and twelve freight cars were left to feed the flames. The entire loss is placed at $357,000, divided as follows: Wagner sleepers, $100,000; coaches, $150,000; baggage and freight cars, $20,000; freight, $15,000; depot, $12,000. ## A THOUSAND LOSE HOMES.

Hammondsport, N. Y., Has a Fire Which Destroys Its Eastern End.

HAMMONDSPORT, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Fire broke out in the large grist mill and wine box factory of Charles Champlain yesterday afternoon. The flames communicated to a pile of 140,000 feet of fine quality lumber, used in the manufacture of wine boxes, and soon both were destroyed. The house of Harry Champlain caught fire first and was destroyed, and many houses followed. The eastern portion of the town is a mass of charred embers and here and there the flames are still burning fiercely. The fire caught from a defective flue in a smokestack of the factory. The charitable people of the town are doing their best to provide shelter for the people who have had to desert their homes. It is calculated that there are 1,200 homeless people. There is but a small insurance. Loss not yet estimated.

The water rushed through a break in frightful torrents, and almost in an instant filled the Glangary workings from the 400 to the 200 levels. Nearly all the men succeeded in climbing to points of safety on the upper levels, but at least three miners are known to have been caught, and it is feared that the number will be increased after investigation.

Appeals to the State for Aid.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Gov. John P. Altgeld late last night issued an appeal in behalf of the destitute people of Pullman whom he found during his personal investigation Monday. The governor first appealed to Mr. Pullman, and after an interchange of warm letters, in which it appeared that Mr. Pullman was unwilling to give any aid to the unfortunates referred to by Gov. Altgeld, his excellency declared off all further negotiations with Mr. Pullman, and issued a proclamation appealing to the people of the state of Illinois for aid to the destitute residents of Pullman.

Fire Victims Ask for Aid.

Peck yesterday received a petition asking for aid for settlers in the vicinity of Chelsea, who lost their all in the fires of July 27, the day when Phillips was wiped out of existence. They say they are without sufficient food, shelter or clothing, and lack the means to procure either. The loss of homes and places of business falls especially hard on the women and children, and it is mainly for them that the empty-handed men appeal for aid.

CHINA TURNED OUT

WITH JAPAN.

His Country Has Been a Dependency of China Long Enough, He Insists, and Asks the Mikado To Aid in Expelling Invaders From His Shores.

LONDON, August 22.—Today's dispatches state that the king of Corea has declared himself independent of China and appealed to Japan for assistance to expel the Chinese from the country. This is of great importance, as Corea, although naturally bound to the Japanese by location has been little more than a Chinese province for years.

Chinese Defeat the Japs.

Another great battle is expected to-day.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 22.—The state convention of representatives of the Illinois miners who belong to the United Mine Workers of America convened here yesterday. The afternoon session was occupied in hearing reports of the various districts in the state as to the present situation of affairs and an adjournment was taken until this morning.

Alix Tries a Fast Mile.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The trotting mare Alix did a great thing at Washington Park yesterday afternoon. She trotted a mile in 2:05 1/4, equaling her record of 2:05 1/4 made in the third heat of a race at Terre Haute last Friday half a second. She was sent to the quarter in 31 1/2. She went along the backstretch, the poetry of trotting motion, to the half-mile pole in 1:03 1/4—second quarter in 31 1/2. There a runner, hatched to a sulky, turned in behind Alix to stimulate her closing effort. She swung around the big bend to the three-quarter pole in 1:35—third quarter in 31 1/2—and came home strong and true in 2:05 1/4—last quarter in 30 1/4.

Much Whisky Withdrawn.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—From official sources the statement is obtained that the internal revenue receipts since June 30 have amounted to $43,124,202, as compared with $33,342,955 for the same period in 1893. This gives an increase of $9,781,247. Of this it is estimated $1,781,247 is the increase on cigars and beer, leaving $15,000,000 as the increase on whisky withdrawn from bond to escape the additional tax. This would mean 20,000,000 gallons, which at forty gallons to the barrel would be 500,000 barrels. It is estimated about 110,000,000 gallons of whisky will remain in bond when the new law goes into effect.

FREE SILVER COINAGE PROPOSED

Strong Resolutions in the House—Advocates of a Sugar Bounty.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Representative Hartman of Montana presented in the house yesterday resolutions for the free coinage of silver which are regarded by the free silver advocates as one of the most significant expressions in favor of their doctrine. The resolutions have been adopted during the present session by the most powerful labor organizations in the country; are strongly worded and are signed by the chief officers of the various unions. The signers are: J. R. Sovereign, grand master workman, and John W. Hayes, secretary and treasurer of the Knights of Labor; Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Marion Butler, president of the National Farmers' Alliance; Henry H. Tenor, president, and P. J. McGuire, secretary, of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners; P. M. Arthur, Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; C. A. Robinson, president of the Farmers' Mutual Benefit Association; Frank Sargent, grand master workman, and F. W. Arnold, secretary and treasurer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, and John McBride, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

The resolutions are as follows:

We demand of the present congress the immediate return to the money of the constitution as established by our fathers by restoring the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the present ratio of 16 to 1, the coins of both metals to be equally full legal tender for all debts, public and private, as before the fraudulent demonetization of silver in 1873.

We also condemn the increase of the national debt in the time of peace and the use of interest-bearing bonds at any time.

The sugar men have taken a great deal of comfort out of the vote that was recently had on the motion of Senator Manderson to instruct the senate finance committee to report an amendment to the free sugar bill re-establishing the McKinley sugar bounty. It was shown that a majority of the senate was for the bounty. Of course the majority is not at all stable, and it is possible that when the senate meets in December that it will be changed. Senator Stewart may not vote, which would leave the vice president to decide against the bounty on a tie vote. But it is thought by some of those who advocate a bounty that before the vote on the free sugar bill or the amended bill there will be three more republican votes in the senate, which will give that side quite a show of strength. At present there are vacancies from Montana, Washington and Wyoming, and it is claimed that the legislatures which are elected this fall will be republican, and as they will assemble early in January the vacancies will be immediately filled.

In the finance committee of the senate some reference was made to the free lead bill which has recently been reported to the house by the ways and means committee and it was suddenly developed that the new member of the committee, Senator White, was not in favor of free silver-lead ores, and as all of the republicans are of the same opinion, it has been decided that the senate need not take into consideration the lead bill. Mr. White is a western man, from a mining state and he sympathizes with the other senators in their efforts to have the duty retained on this ore.

Andrew Ross, who was running the engine, had both legs and an arm crushed and was injured internally so that he died a few hours later. Five boys, from 9 to 15 years old, were standing near the engine, and were so badly torn and scalded that it is thought four of them cannot recover. Two other men received slight wounds.

The engine was torn to fragments, one of the driving wheels being thrown 500 feet into a field and the other about 200 feet in the opposite direction, while parts of the machine were scattered over a radius of 500 feet. ## STICKS TO HIS DESK AND DOESN'T BLUFF

NOBODY CAN SCARE CONGRESS-MAN H. A. COOPER.

Mr. Reed Fails to Pull Him—Could Not Bring Him Into Voting For What He Considered a Wrong—An Extract From the Louisville Times, a Democratic Organ.

Congressman H. A. Cooper is attacked by a democratic paper in unjust fashion. It is interesting to note how persons who have an opportunity of meeting congressmen at Washington, and who have been acquainted with them and their work for years, consider and look at our congressman from this district. The following is an exact copy of an article that appeared in the Louisville Times of August 13, last, a democratic paper of national reputation:

"Probably the man in congress most attentive to his legislative duties is Henry A. Cooper, of Wisconsin. Except when he had a severe spell of illness, lasting about four weeks, he has never been absent from his duties a single day of either the extra or the present session. This is his first term, and he has shown a marked degree of personal and political independence. Though Reed cracked the whip of leadership over him when the vote was taken on the famous Crisp-Catching rule, providing that the pay of members absent from the session—except that absence was occasioned by sickness, either of the member or some one of his family—should be withheld, Reed opposed the rule with all his ability, wit and skill. He went so far as to organize himself into a 'whip' and whoop up his side. When he approached Cooper that gentleman said:

"When I hire a man to work for me I don't pay him for the time he is absent. I am hired here to work for the public, and I ought not to have pay for the time I am absent. It is a just rule, and I shall vote for it," and he did.

"Only those who know the strong personality of Thomas B. Reed, his tyranny, his long memory, the probability that he will be speaker of the next congress, and the certainty of punishment that he would be sure to mete out to one who refused to bend to his will can appreciate the manhood Cooper displayed on this occasion.

"Again, Cooper was one of the small minority of the committee on Pacific railroads who refused to consent to an extension of time to said roads to meet their already overdue obligations to the government. Indeed, it is refreshing to find a republican who does not wear a corporation collar, but Cooper is one of them.

"His vote on the bill to tax greenbacks was another act of independence reprinted by some of his party associates.

"Mr. Cooper is a great lover of many sports. Like the late James A. Garfield and Senators Hill and Gorman, he dearly loves a game of base ball, and he will delight in 'crank' with his thorough knowledge of the game and familiarity with the careers of the great men who have been the glory of the diamond."

To hear Mr. Cooper spoken of in this way by one who has seen his work in congress, affirms the opinion which the people of the First district have formed.

STATE REPORT ON THE CROPS.

Not Rain Enough During the Week To Do Much Good.

The east, central and southeastern counties received some rain during the last week; but in most cases the rain areas were small and not sufficient to break the drouth, though vegetation has revived slightly in some localities, where the rainfall was the heaviest.

Pastures are generally dead, and fall feed is so poor that many farmers are driven to the necessity of cutting up corn for fodder.

Corn is making slow progress, but on low ground a small crop will be secured, even without rain, and some fields in the southern portion of the state are looking very well.

Potatoes are turning out light, being small in size and very few in a hill, though about half an average crop will probably be secured.

Cranberries are about a failure and many marshes have been destroyed by fire.

Forest and marsh fires continue owing to the entire absence of rain in that portion of the state.

Farm work, except threshing, is at a stand still over a large portion of the state, the ground being too dry for plowing.

Threshers report a good yield of small grain in all sections. Wheat and barley being exceptionally good in color and quality. Tobacco is doing well considering the dry weather. Fruit is plentiful, especially grapes and apples.

ARE YOU A MEMBER OF A. O. R. I. P.?

Janesville Men Who Possess Badges Are Objects of General Interest.

Janesville men who have badges bearing the mystic letters A. O. R. I. P., should be regarded with awe. They are free and accepted members of the Ancient Order of Reckless and Independent Prevaricators. To each person that is initiated a liar's license is given and this license certifies that the holder is authorized to lie, prevaricate, and extraordinarily stretch the truth from the first day of January, 1894, to the last day of December, 1894. The license is signed by Annanus, the king of liars. While at the Beloit clam bake yesterday, one of the Janesville members had a chance to make practical use of his license. One of the destroyers of clams told a fish story far greater than the fish and game law of the state permits and when the prevaricator had reached a breathing spell the Janesville visitor produced his document much to the discomfiture of the story teller. It had the desired effect. The scheme works similar to the chestnut bell racket of a few years ago. Steps have already been taken to organize a full pledged A. O. R. I. P. society in this city.

PRETTY MAID CLAD IN BLOOMERS.

The Dress Reform Movement Has Reached Janesville at Last.

This noon when the train from Chicago came in, a slender maiden of twenty summers stepped upon the platform and rolled her wheel along. She was the first to have the courage to wear bloomers in Janesville. She set the pace for womankind in this section of the country in the matter of a suitable and convenient bicycling costume. She threw a good bye kiss to her friends in the train, marched down the platform through the crowd as becomingly and as proudly as a cadet would have done in a new uniform.

Presently she mounted her wheel and started off in the direction of Milton Junction, going over the Fourth avenue bridge. She was one of a party of three Chicagoans who will camp at Clear Lake for a week, and she evidently wanted to see the country before the others left the train.

HENS RUN HIS ALARM CLOCK.

Mean Man in Clinton Beats All Records—How He Rises Easily.

The stingy misers who cross their bees with lightning bugs so they can see to work at night, and who use the wart on the back of their neck for collar buttons are not in it with a Clinton man who gets along without an alarm clock by a telephone made of two cans and a string, one can placed at his pillow and the other placed at his hen roost partially filled with corn. When the chickens wake up in the morning they begin picking the corn and the rattle of their bills is thus conveyed to the miser and he crawls out of bed.

PRETTY RED MAIDEN BELLE OF THE TRAIN

DAMSEL IN MOCCASINS ON THE VESTIBULE.

She Wears Indian Garb, But Takes Pride in Her Personal Appearance, and Is Well Educated—This Will Be a Hard Winter For Her Tribe, She Declares.

A pretty Indian girl was an attraction on the "vestibule" last night. The young woman, though bare-headed and dressed in the proverbial moccasins, red dress and blanket of her kind, had the added and unusual distinction of being clean. Her long hair was neatly combed and braided. Her face shone with cleanliness and health and there was a general air of refinement about her quite foreign to her sisters of the forest.

Seeing the interest manifested in the young woman a reporter followed her and questioned her and found her to be Miss Nellie Kingsley of Black River Falls, and a sister of George Kingsley, a Winnebago Indian, well known in the northern part of the state. She is twenty-nine years of age, single, and was educated at a government school in Nebraska. She uses the English tongue fluently and gracefully, and, unlike her white sisters, never indulges in slang. She possesses many accomplishments in the line of fancy work and household duties and, begging her pardon for the liberty, would make some good fellow a nice wife.

Times Hard Among Indians.

Asked about her kindred around the state, Miss Kingsley said that they are promised a very hard winter, as all the berry crops have been ruined—actually burned up—by the drought. They will all receive $18 in December, but most of them are already in debt which is secured by the government annuity. Asked about the selection of a chieftain for her tribe, Miss Kingsley said the question was proving hard of settlement, as all the young men aspired to the position. George Winneshiek, a nephew of the late Chief Winneshiek, is a favored candidate because he keeps sober, but little Winneshiek is really the nearest "to the throne" by the line of blood.

Miss Kingsley gave the reporter the details of a personal encounter between two well-known Indians—George Winneshiek and Long White—near Black River Falls a few days ago. It seems that Long White, while intoxicated, became incensed at George and attempted to tie him to a tree; whereat George threw Long White down and bit the whole of his under lip off. Long White was always a "sight" by reason of a disfiguring gun shot wound on his face, but now, with his white teeth continually showing by reason of the absence of his lip, he is hideous.

AFTERNOON VS. MORNING PAPERS.

Field Is Growing and People Recognize the Change—Good Reasons Given.

The progress of the afternoon newspaper is a natural one, and it is strengthened every year. It answers to a demand; it does not create it. More and more the people prefer the afternoon newspaper, and more and more the managers of the afternoon newspapers respond to this call by enlarging their facilities, improving their news service and increasing without cost to the purchaser the amount of reading matter, all of which tells clearly of the passing of the morning newspaper.—Louisville Post.

CAME TO THE COUNTY IN 1838.

J. S. Mellan Tells of Life in Rock During the Early Days.

J. S. Mellan, who settled in the town of Union in 1838, was in town today and chatted of old times.

"All the old settlers were brothers," he said. "Anything that one had was at the service of others. James came here first and they gathered some few supplies by the time the rest of us came. He helped some of us out of pretty bad holes."

M. Mellan claims to have been the first settler in the town of Union coming there even before Daniel Johnson.

FINE EMERALD GROVE PONIES.

Robert Lilburn Disposes of a World's Fair Prize Team of Ponies.

EMERALD GROVE, Aug. 21.—Robert Lilburn recently sold from his World's Fair prize herd of Shetland ponies a stylish span to Mrs. John Power, of Fort Atkinson. The Y. P. S. E. social was well patronized, last week, and all enjoyed a good time. The society meeting Sunday evening was very largely attended by the young people from far and near. Miss Francis Lynch, of Minneapolis, is being entertained by her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Ransom. Miss Lillie Davis celebrated her thirteenth birthday last week by entertaining a number of her young friends in the evening. Ice cream and other goodies flowed freely (so to speak). It was a merry party and one long to be remembered. Miss Roberta Lilburn is visiting friends in Whitewater. Gillies & Jones have plenty of good cider in barrels for sale cheap. Tobacco is looking better after the recent showers.

THE HOME OF CAMPHOR.

It Comes Principally From Japan and Formosa.

At one time camphor was produced in Sumatra and Borneo, in other parts of the East Indies and in China; but the crude camphor of commerce is now produced exclusively by Japan and Formosa.

The Japanese camphor tree is a monstrous evergreen of exceedingly symmetrical proportions and somewhat like a lime tree. It has a red berry, and its blossom is a white flower. Some of the trees are more than forty feet in circumference, and at least 300 years old.

Very little care was formerly bestowed upon the cultivation of these valuable trees, but all this has now been altered, and the result is that, instead of having to wait until the tree is seventy or eighty years old before the camphor can be extracted, an equally good yield will be obtained in one-third of that time.

The roots contain a much larger proportion of camphor than the trees; if the producer gets ten pounds of crude camphor out of 200 pounds of wood chips, they regard it as a satisfactory yield.

Both the process of extracting the camphor and the materials and apparatus used in the process are of the roughest description.

The chips are boiled, the vapor being led into some kind of a tub, with several partitions, surrounded by cold water. In the sides of these partitions are holes so arranged that when open they cause the vapor to fill the divisions in a circuitous manner, thus improving the grain of the camphor.

The raw material is brought to market in rough wooden tubs, but before it is fit for shipment it has to be submitted to a test which requires considerable experience.

Each tub is very carefully sampled, and the samples are tested sometimes by alcohol, sometimes by fire.

If no solid adulterating mixture is discovered, the condition of the camphor is examined; this is really a very difficult task, because the crude camphor contains from five to twenty per cent of water and oil, and it requires experience and care to find out whether it has been tampered with.

When this has been done the camphor is weighed, cut, mixed, drained and dried, and packed for export.

SINK HOLE IS GIVEN DIRT BY CARLOADS

C. & N. W. CONSTRUCTION FORCE PUZZLED.

Eight Cars of Earth Dumped in a Big Sink Near Jefferson Junction, But the Ground Seems To Be as Soft as Ever—The Rails Get Out of Line.

There is a point on the Northwestern road near Jefferson Junction that is causing considerable trouble to the owners of the road. It is known as the "sink hole" and it is the desire of the company to build a solid bed of earth for the road across the treacherous place. For a long time there has been a bridge there, but the foundations of it cause the rails to get out of line. If a solid road bed could be built this would be obviated. Recently eighty car loads of dirt have been poured into it but with no effect and there seems to be no bottom. When the line was first constructed it required forty acres of timber to lay the foundations across the place, with the exception of the bridge where the water flows through and which it is desired to fill.

Knights of Pythias Conclave at Washington

DRESS AND DISHWASHING.

Why the Roles of Hostess and Cook Are Antagonistic.

Since the chafing dish and alcohol stove came into general use the demand for benzine and other cleansing fluids must have sensibly increased, for every college girl or other young woman possessing an independent apartment of her own in which she may do as she likes and entertain her friends as she wishes has set up a miniature cooking establishment and messes away to her heart's content among stuffed furniture and art draperies. Theoretically there is something very charming in the idea of a young lady in a silk and lace tea gown making chocolate for her admiring friends, but there is so unpleasant a practical side to the matter that fastidious girls think twice before turning their reception and sitting room into a kitchen. A woman who has a distaste for grease in the wrong place hinted at this inconvenience to her college hostess with whom she was on intimate terms without in the least desiring to belittle the social gathering that had been held in her honor. But the collegian replied that as she usually wore half length sleeves—she has very pretty arms—and washed dishes with a mop she could cook anything and clear up after it with absolute neatness. The guest could say no more in common decency, but against her will she was conscious that many of the student's pretty silk and chalice gowns were spotted and disfigured and bore unmistakable evidence that their wearer had combined the antagonistic roles of hostess and cook.

It ought to be understood that eating and drinking are not a necessity of social intercourse, although there is nothing more pleasant than to be able to offer one's friends the hospitality of the table properly.

The sketch shows an afternoon bodice of light blue silk muslin trimmed with Irish guipure. It is accented plaited and is cut square at the neck. The guipure forms a sort of yoke and half bretelles. The balloon elbow sleeves are gathered into a ribbon at the bottom, and the belt is of ribbon.

When Our Liver Reprimands Us

For our neglect of it by inflicting upon us sick headache, by dyeing the skin yellow, coating the tongue with fur, producing vertigo, pains in the right side and souring the breath, we are little less than lunatics if we disregard the chastisement. If we call Hostetter's Stomach Bitters to our aid, tranquility and health follow speedily, and with the departure of the symptoms mentioned, departs also irregularity of the bowels, which invariably attends disorder of the liver. In malarial complaints the liver is always involved, and it is a fortunate circumstance that this fine anti-bilious medicine is also the finest specific in existence for every form of malarial disease. For it is less efficacious for dyspepsia, failure of appetite and strength, nervousness and a rheumatic tendency. It renews the ability to sleep, and greatly promotes convalescence after wasting diseases.

Boys Caused the Rioting.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Several newspaper reporters were called upon yesterday to tell President Cleveland's labor commission something of their experience in the recent sympathy strike and boycott. Most of their recitals were confined to scenes of rioting and incendiarism actually witnessed by the reporters and the stories held the attention of a court room full of spectators. It was proved that the rioting in Chicago was done principally by boys and hoodlums and the A. R. U. men did not participate in it. It is expected that some of the general managers will appear before the commission to-day.

BELLEVIEW, ILL., Aug. 22.—National Vice-President Hanley of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers was here yesterday in the interest of the local iron and steel workers, who had been negotiating with the Valley Steel company for the last week concerning a scale of wages. An agreement has been effected that the Western Nail mills began operations. Over 600 men will once more have employment.

DELEGATES CHOSEN BY THE DEMOCRATS

NINE MEN SENT FROM ROCK COUNTY.

Those Named Are C. W. Metzinger, T. W. Dibble, C. A. Holcomb, F. R. Morris, D. E. Thorpe, G. C. McLean, John Winans, Andrew Jensen and William Cunningham.

The democratic county convention this afternoon was presided over by W. P. Bentley of Edgerton and William Smith of this city. It was a very tame assemblage. Delegates to the state convention were elected as follows: C. W. Metzinger, T. W. Dibble, C. A. Holcomb, F. R. Morris, D. E. Thorpe, G. C. McLean, John Winans, Andrew Jensen, William Cunningham. The congressional delegates were elected as follows: R. Jones, Daniel Rogers, William Stearns, E. J. Carpenter, Robert Morten, John Smith, Andrew Jensen, William Smith, E. B. Wixon. Nine towns—Avon, Clinton, Center, Janesville, Johnson, La Prairie, Magnolia, Newark, and Plymouth—were not represented, but the convention filled up some of the towns by admitting other representative democrats, George Skinner of this city being admitted to represent La Prairie.

JOSEPH CONNORS, head salesman at T. J. Ziegler's clothing store, and Miss Hattie Bray will be married tomorrow morning in St. Patrick's church, at 7:30 high mass. They will leave at 12:30 for Chicago, where they will spend a week or more with the bride's mother. Miss Lizzie Bray, sister of the bride, will act as bridesmaid and James Connors, brother of the groom, will be the best man. Dean McGinnity will perform the ceremony.

Nobody accused Superintendent Charles Stoller of misrepresentation last evening, when they met him in the Sunday school rooms of the Court Street church. The social under his management was a complete success. There were Chinese lanterns in abundance, with Bower City band music, flowers, ice cream that was delicious, angel's food and numerous attractions of which pretty girls were not the least.

PARTIES who intend to join the excursion party to the Wisconsin Dells are requested to procure their tickets at once. The managers want to provide ample accommodations on the cars for all, and if tickets are procured in advance there will be no crowding of the cars. The excursion promises to be the most pleasant of the season. King & Skelly have tickets for sale.

ARE you a stout, a long stout or an extra large stout? Are you tall and slender? Are you built like the handle to a rake? Our Pickwick clothing is especially adapted to your form. We can fit any size man with clothes which have style and correct shape to them. Pickwick clothing all here September 3d. If you are hard to fit come in. T. J. Ziegler.

THE Concordia and Bower City band excursion to Watertown next Sunday is becoming more interesting every day. There will be a big crowd and everybody will enjoy themselves, as a grand picnic will take place on the island after arriving there. Procure tickets from Charles Wisch, Theodor Beyer or Carl Brockhaus.

TODAY we will mark down all of our ladies' oxfords and Prince Alberts at just what they cost, to close them out. We have them all the way from 75 cents to $2.50 a pair; also just received a large invoice of ladies' shoes from $1.30 to $3. They are great value for the price. Call and see them. Lloyd & Son.

Now is the best time to go and see land in Clark county, for sale by the C. S. Graves Land Co. The present price will be the lowest for which it will ever be offered. Why rent a farm or pay a high price for it when you can buy of this company at only $7.50 per acre, easy terms.

FRANK H. JACKMAN, paying teller of the Rock county bank, and Fred S. Sheldon of A. H. Sheldon & Co., will leave Friday for a trip around the lakes. They will take passage on the new boat Manitou and will make the circuit from Chicago to Buffalo, then to Duluth.

THE Labor Day celebration the third of September promises to be the best of the season. Excellent speakers have been engaged for the occasion. Several good prizes are offered and in the evening a dance with Smith's orchestra for the music.

WE are turning out some elegant business suits, sacks and cutaways. Let us take your measure for a $20 suit made to order. Guarantee equally as good workmanship and a better fitting garment than you can get in the town for $30. T. J. Ziegler.

OUR Pickwick opening September 3; we shall be able to show clothing built for odd-sized people. We can fit any sized man in Rock county; the larger the better. A fine range of men's suits from $12.50 to $18. T. J. Ziegler.

ALL local wheelmen are requested to meet at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the old Baker store on the bridge, to enroll members and make arrangements for a road race. By order of F. E. Pellant, Pres. B. C. N.

THEY say that when the cannon was fired the wind whistled after the Ball. Very improbable, surely, but after we cease to make the prices we are doing on buggies, you will whistle. Janesville Carriage Works.

An error in the types in Monday's Gazette made the price of knit shirts for to-day's sale read 50 cents, when it should have been 25 cents. Call in and ask to see them, they are worth a dollar. Archie Reid.

ABOUT the handsomest tansorial parlor in the city is that of Jacob Ohlweiler at No. 3 North Academy street. All the latest improved easy barber chairs and workmen the best WILLIAM SCOTT, driver of the west side hose team, is off on his ten days' furlough. He will spend his time visiting relatives in Madison, and in Green and Lafayette counties.

Now is when we are busy. It does not take the people long to find out where they get the most dry goods for the money, so they crowd our store. T. P. Burns.

STOCK bought at sixty cents on the dollar can be sold cheaper than regular goods can be bought, and this is what we are doing. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

COURT CLERK W. F. WILLIAMS and wife joined the Devil's Lake excursion party this morning and are enjoying themselves at the pleasant summer resort.

JANESVILLE sent two carloads of excursionists to Devil's Lake to-day. The Rectory Society of Trinity church managed the affair very successfully.

MISS MARION WILLEY of Minneapolis, Minn., who has been visiting friends and relatives in this city left last evening for her home.

THERE may be a time when we can't give you the bargains we are offering in dry goods, so you had better take advantage now. T. P. Burns.

THE Dells, the romantic Dells of Wisconsin, of which so much has been said and written, is where hundreds will enjoy themselves Friday.

NEXT Saturday Ziegler will display the first new style hats of the season in Janesville. They are the genuine Miller hat, no imitation.

GEORGE I. STRATTON must sell his stock in eight days. Paints, wall paper, varnishes, pictures, mouldings, etc. at your own price.

THE home circle of Mr. and Mrs. Al. Kavalege has been enlarged to make room for a little daughter that arrived last evening.

FIRE BUGS TRYING TO BURN A BLOCK.

FOUR ATTEMPTS ON MAIN STREET PROPERTY.

First Blaze Was Kindled in the Rear of W. H. Burchell's Store—After That A. N. Jones Received Attention, and So Did Willard Coleman's Paint Shop.

Four unsuccessful attempts have been made within the past three weeks to set fire to the row of buildings on North Main street near Prospect avenue. First a fire was kindled in the stable of W. H. Burchell, which was discovered in time to prevent any serious results. About a week later fire was discovered in a shed at the rear of Jones' tobacco ware house, and two attempts have been made the present week to fire the wooden sheds in the rear of Coleman's paint shop. All were discovered in time to prevent serious loss. The parties, excepting Mr. Burchell, kept the matter as quiet as possible, hoping to catch the incendiary. Chief Acheson was informed of the several attempts, and at once commenced an investigation. A young man who was seen to run away from Mr. Coleman's place a few minutes before the fire was discovered, was confronted with the charge, but gave a satisfactory account of his movements at the time. So far no one is suspected, but the parties interested are keeping a close watch, expecting another visit. There are large quantities of combustible material stored in the several buildings, and should a fire once get under headway in any one of them, the loss would be quite serious.

HOW They wait in Kentucky.

A Danville girl tells the Advocate the following with regard to waiting: "No one waltz, even when danced with the same partner, is exactly the same. It is always a new sensation. The music is not in the same key, and the waltz does not touch the same chords of one's soul. If I dance twenty waltzes in the evening I have twenty different thrills of pleasure. With one partner it is a soft, insidious measure; with the next, a long and languorous movement; with the third, more of a hop, that generally jars the brain into a delicious, dreamy forgetfulness; while the fourth cavalier, with a heroic tread, bears you away with strong and vigorous rhythm into still another world. The lights of this go out, you lose consciousness, but you feel no dread as you lie within those hurculean arms like a child rocked to sleep in his father's embrace. Your feet are no longer on the earth. It's a celestial rotation out into space, and when you light on earth again you feel like a tired bird stopping a long flight."

THE first oil well in America was discovered on a small mountain farm in Wayne county, Kentucky, in the year 1832.

THE SUTHERLAND SANITARIUM

New Company Formed With the Hospital on Main Street as Headquarters.

Dr. Q. O. Sutherland and H. F. Bliss yesterday formed a co-partnership for establishing and maintaining a sanitarium and private hospital in the building formerly known as the Windsor Hotel. This enterprise is in no way connected with the McChesney Medicine Company. The Sutherland Sanitarium and Dr. H. A. McChesney goes on the road for himself. Probably no sanitarium ever opened under more favorable auspices. Three of the largest operations were performed yesterday—two hysterectomies and a laparotomy. The staff as now organized is as follows:

Q. O. Sutherland M. D., surgeon in charge.

E. H. Pratt M. D. and Frances Holbrook M. D. of the Lincoln Park Sanitarium, Chicago, are consulting surgeons.

Mrs. Canfield, a graduate of the Lincoln Park Sanitarium and a lady of large experience is matron. Miss Stevens, a graduate of the Illinois training school of nurses is at present assisting in the ease of patients.

MRS. KINNEY'S ARM IS NUMB.

Effects of the Accident Saturday Night Prove Very Serious.

Mrs. J. H. Kinney is confined to the house by the effects of the accident Saturday night. The charge of electricity which killed her horse was communicated to those in the buggy. Both Mrs. Kinney and her daughter felt it and Mrs. Kinney's left arm was made helpless. It has remained partially paralyzed since and the doctor has not been able to give relief.

The trolley wire hung so low, it is said, that it caught under the horses' head and was carried down as the animal fell. The flesh of his neck burned in sickening fashion as efforts were made to drag the rig away. Had the wire not been caught as it was, however, one of the occupants of the carriage would doubtless have been struck full in the face.

WAS HARRY MEANS INJURED?

Report in Circulation That He Was Hurt on the Railroad.

Harry Means, of this city, brother of Collie Means, is reported to have been badly hurt on the railroad between here and Chicago. Neither of the local railroad offices have had any news of the accident and the boy's family have received no dispatch. The report came from a railroad man.

MISS KENT STRUCK BY FLYING BEAMS

ROOF OF A RAILWAY CAR SUD- DENLY CRUSHED IN.

Janesville Young Lady Suffers in an Accident on the Illinois Central in Chicago—She and Her Sister-in-Law Have a Narrow Escape in a Wrecked Car.

Mrs. E. J. Kent left for Chicago on the early morning train called there by a peculiar accident to her daughter Miss Winifred Kent. A Chicago & Eastern Illinois train had just left the depot going south, and a switch engine, under the direction of Michael Tearney, was switching cars near Sixty-fifth street. As the passenger was passing the switch train the engineer pushed the freight train down a side track and two empty cars struck a side tracked train of stone cars and threw both cars into the air. In falling they alighted on the last coach of the passenger train. The roof of the coach was crushed and the sides badly broken. Fortunately there were only two passengers in the car at the time, Miss Kent and her sister-in-law, of 7523 Goldsmith avenue. Miss Kent chanced to be sitting in the center of the car, and the falling woodwork struck her on the head, inflicting severe bruises. The other lady escaped injury, but was badly frightened.

To Women. Suffering

WOMAN IN PORTUGAL HAS MANY CARES.

SHE IS NOT THE HAPPIEST OF HER SEX.

Though She Bubbles Over With Literary Genius Her Husband Must Consent Before She Can Make Her Writing Public.

THE NEW WOMAN, she who looks upon man, new and old, with scorn
scarcely tempered
by pity, must feel
a woeful sense that the world remains unconquered while France and Portugal keep certain
laws unchanged.

In those lands her married sisters languish in matrimonial shackles. Their husbands are their masters, exercising control over them in the particulars in which the new woman demands
most freedom—the exercise of genius.

In France the stage-struck matron must humbly beseech her lord for permission to act. If he refuses to grant it then must she keep her histrionic talent hidden from the world.
If genius refuses to be chained, if the wife revolts and goes upon the stage,
her husband may divorce her.

But the baffled Frenchwoman would still have one redress. She could write a book exposing the hideous tyranny and brutality of man. She could become a Gallic Sarah Grand.
But even this would be denied the Portuguese lady. A married woman in that land of darkness may not publish her literary works without her husband's consent. The domestic tragedies resulting from this cruel law which robs modern woman of her dearest privilege—that of writing a book—can easily be imagined. One sees pictures the agonies of feminine authorship thus:

"In the intervals of her household duties, and in secret travail, the Portuguese wife responds to the instinctive call of genius. She writes her poems, romance, history, travels, (for by law it is her duty to accompany her husband everywhere except to a foreign land); volumes of manuscript grow under her busy and inspired hand in a fine, nervous autograph, for a typewriter might excite suspicion.
One fatal night she has an irresistible impulse to rise and commit to paper a precious idea which may be a fugitive before morning. Arbitrary man awakes from his commonplace slumbers, and perceives her in the flagitious act of literary composition.
What is this? A biography of Vasco da Gama—ha! A history of Portuguese civilization in Africa—it is too much! "The Frozen Bride," a romance—volume three! Saints and legislators forbent it! On her knees she begs for publication. He laughs

the idea to scorn, yawns derisively,
and turns to his pillow with a banal remark about the hour. One short blow with a hairpin, a horrid gurgle,
and she is free."

Fortunately they don't mind blows
with a hairpin so much in conservative Portugal as in lands where the New Woman holds fuller sway. So a mode of escape from marital tyranny is always open to genius there.

Financial Standing of Our Railroads.

In a general way the facts pertaining to the financial standing of our railways are known. Accepting railway construction as an indication of the condition of the railway industry,
the period through which we are now passing shows greater depression than any previous period. The increase in new mileage brought into operation
during the fiscal year 1892 was less than during any year since 1880, while the percentage increase stood lower than for any previous year since the beginning of railways in this country.
Thus the rate of increase from 1886 to 1887 was 9.08 per cent.; from 1887 to 1888, 6.07 per cent.; from 1888 to 1889,
3.22 per cent.; from 1889 to 1890, 4.78
per cent.; from 1890 to 1891, 2.94 per cent.; from 1891 to 1892, 1.88 per cent., and from 1892 to 1893, 2.30 per cent. These figures show a remarkable depression in the business of railway construction. Another fact emphasized by railway writers is the large amount of mileage placed in the hands of receivers during the past eighteen months. Thus 43,000 miles of line have been placed under the protection of the courts, an amount equal to 24 per cent of the total length of line.

Carpets made entirely of paper are a novelty in the house furnishing line.
Pulps of various shades are artistically commingled to produce attractive patterns.

Boiling tar, applied to masonry,
makes it impervious to water.

LAPSES OF TACT.

Saying the Right Things at the Wrong
Time.

We have all no doubt experienced several of those dreadful moments when our social good angel deserts us and leaves us to say whatever inopportune thing comes into our heads to our after surprise and shame. This is a recognized condition of things. Witness the popularity of those painful jokes introduced under the title of "Things Better Left Unsaid." The spirit of perversity seems sometimes to seize upon one's tongue, and one listens aghast while it proceeds quite independently to commit one in the most appalling manner. A Spanish proverb runs to the effect that it is ill talking of ropes in the house of a man who was hanged, but how is it possible to resist the intolerable fascination of the subject of ropes in such a residence? No wonder that the people of the middle ages believed that his satanic majesty personally attended the steps of human beings and got them into trouble through no fault of their own whenever he could manage it, for certainly a demon of contrariety often seems to guide our actions and influence them adversely against our particular wish and will. It operates even when we are quite unconscious of it. For example, how prone everybody is to loudly condemn some par-

GLACE SILK COSTUME.

ticular weakness or foible in the presence of a person who afterward turns out to be especially possessed by it! If we are inspired to express our disapprobation of certain habits or tastes, it is sure to be at a time when our words will seem to have a personal and critical application to at least one of our auditors. No amount of what is vulgarly known as "crawfishing" after we discover the circumstances will carry us back to our former vantage ground of polite noncommittalism, and we must forever after bear the consequences of an opinion probably half formed and hastily uttered on the spur of the moment. If somebody would only suggest a safeguard against these lapses of tact, to which even the cleverest and most worldly wise persons are subject, he would win the undying gratitude of many amiable and well meaning people who suffer more from causing awkwardness than their victims
do in being placed in an unpleasant position.

A sketch is given of a costume of ceru glace silk, with golden brown figures. It is trimmed with golden brown moire and ceru guipure. The round corsage is gathered in at the waist and neck and has balloon elbow sleeves. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Regards for the Future.

Miss Elders—These women who are afraid to tell their age disgust me.
Now I'm not afraid to tell anyone that I am 28.

Rev. Peters, warningly—Yes, Miss Elders; you may not be afraid
now. But, remember, you will be held accountable for it in the day of judgment.—Puck.

His Idea of Heaven.

"Grandpa, I don't want to go to heaven." "You don't want to go to heaven! Why not?" "I should be so lonesome there." "Why would you be lonesome there, my son?"
"Grandpa, it will be very lonesome with only God and George Washington there."—Judge.

A Portent.

Wife—Now won't you, darling Edgar, buy me the bracelet?
Husband, without answering, to the maid who is just leaving the room—Marie, go for the physician at once. I think there's a chance my wife may shortly fall in a faint.—
Fliegende Blaetter.

A Disadvantage in Aluminum.

The telephone business has developed an interesting fact that may check the growing popularity of aluminum. The metal has recently been used in telephone diaphragms,
and there are signs that it corrodes
under the action of the human breath.

PINCHED FACES.

PECULIAR TO AMERICAN WOMEN.
Some of the Causes which Appear upon Investigation.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]
Ask them "What can be the matter?"
and the invariable answer is, "I don't know." The eyes droop, and an air of deep gloom seems to overwhelm them. Press your questions a little closer, and you find avoidance of all society, reluctance to make the slightest effort, all accompanied with a crushing sense of bearing down.

"WHY DON'T WOMEN HAVE MORE FAITH?"

Further investigation discloses irregularity of periods, dizziness and faintness
at times, and perhaps leucorrhoea.

Then surely the evidence is all-sufficient.
An American woman has discovered that the cause of all this lies in a deranged
and diseased uterus or womb.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most marvellous cure for this trouble ever discovered.

A purely vegetable remedy, it is at once an absolutely safe and natural cure for this crushing trouble.

It has cured thousands, and will cure
you as sure as truth is truth.

Here is a letter from one of them which she wants us to publish:—

"For years I have been almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms: shooting pains all over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, faintness, dizziness, depression, and everything that was horrid. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable compound has done more for me than all the doctors.
"I feel it my duty to tell you these facts that you also may be cured. My heart is full of gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham."—Mrs.
Harriet Wampler, Box 944, Baraboo, Wis.

CHIEFLY CHAFF.

Greene—What do you do when you get stuck on a counterfeit bill, White—Give it to my wife.

"Did you invite Susie to come and see you?" Flossie—Yes; I told her she must come over and stay all night some day.

"Cholly pursued a number of studies at college, didn't he?" "Yes, he pursued 'em, but I don't think he ever caught up with any."

She—Does it make anything cheaper to put it on the free list? He—Certainly, my dear. She—Then why don't they put house rent on?

Clara, at Santa Cruz—That letter seems to have made you very happy. May—Yes, it is from Jack. He has heard that I am flirting terribly, and is delightfully angry about it.

At the Butcher's—Boy—Half a pound of steak, but let it be very tough. Butcher—Tough? What's that for, my lad? Boy—Cause if it's tender, daddy'll eat it all himself.

Mamma—Robbie, why didn't you speak to Mrs. Bangle when you met her just now? Robbie—You said I must always think twice before I speak, and I couldn't think of anything to think.

Newcom—I hear Scribbler's wife had him arrested for assault. What was the row about? Dobbin—She took exception to certain passages in his latest book, "How to Make Home Happy," and he threw a chair at her.

He—I had a queer dream about you last night, Miss Louisa. I was about to give you a kiss, when suddenly we were separated by a river that gradually grew as big as the Rhine. She—And was there no bridge and no boat?

A local band was one day playing at Dunfermline, when an old weaver came up and asked the bandmaster what that was they were playing. That is "The Death of Nelson." solemnly replied the bandmaster. "Ay, man," remarked the weaver, "ye give him an awful death."

The parlor maid is busy cleaning the door mat which exhibits the legend Saive (Welcome) in capital letters. The footman comes upon the scene and inquires: "What is the meaning of that word, Fraulein Anna?" "That is Latin, you ignoramus," and means 'Please wipe your feet.'"

GEMS OF THOUGHT.

Pride is a hard snake to kill entirely dead.

It never pays to cherish a fault-finding spirit.

It is foolish to make professions that you do not live up to.

People who have great strength are also apt to have some great weakness.

It never pays to do in private what you would be ashamed to have known in public.

There is as little mercy in stabbing with a word as there is in doing it with a knife.

A tattler's brain is like a beggar's pack; it contains little but what has been given to him.

We never knew a man who could not bear another man's misfortunes perfectly like a Christian.

Our passions are like convulsion fits, which make us stronger for a time, but leave us weaker forever after.

Hasty words often rankle the wound which injury gives; but soft words assuage it, forgiving cures it, and forgetting takes away the scar.

A neat bit of proverbial philosophy said to be of Japanese origin, is, "Be like the tree which covers with flowers the hand that shakes it."

We never know the true value of friends. While they live we are too sensitive to their faults; when we have lost them we see only their virtues.

Do not judge a man by the clothes he wears. God made one and the tailor the other. Do not judge him by his family, for Cain belonged to a good family.

A Barbarous Quarantine.

If quarantines everywhere were on the plan pursued in Hancock, N. Y., it would not be wondered at that people resort to all sorts of expedients to conceal infectious diseases in their families. There, when a case of diphtheria occurred in the family of James Wheeler, the house was closed. No nurse, medicines or food were provided, one after another of the four children took the disease and died, followed by the mother. After the second child's death the health officer made his second visit, and being upbraided by Wheeler for his neglect went away in a rage and did not return until all but the head of the family had been exterminated. Even the undertaker only set the coffins down by the front gate. Now there is a scandal about the matter and everybody is saying ugly things about everybody else.

The Milk Cure.

General Hancock's grandson ought to have ascertained the minimum weight of the West Point pleb before seeking entrance to the academy, and then gone to a milk curist. Unless the young man is in uncommonly bad health the milk cure would have given him his additional five pounds in a very short time, and that, too, without seriously interfering with his studies. It is the peculiarity of the milk treatment that it fattens those who are too thin and thins those who are too fat.—N. Y. Sun.
